Walk into the space traces and smells Sounds
 school children on recess
 wood cracking rain falling wind blowing bees busy and wasps
 weasel under the roof

RIEN
Ce mot est issu du latin rem (cf. cat. re), accusatif de rei « chose ; être ; affaire - fait » (cf. occ. et cat. res). La famille de res comprend réel, d'un terme juridique « relatif aux choses, aux biens », (et irréel, déréel, surréel, réaliser, réalisme), réalité, réifier, république (« bien public, affaires publiques » → publier), revendication (« réclamation d'une chose » → venger), rebus, déréologique. Le français « produit, vaurien. Recalpolliik vient de l'allemand de même origine et reality show de l'anglais. L'anglais doit au français real («r») puis to realize, l'espagnol, realizar («r»). République est passé au xv<sup>e</sup> s. en anglais (republic) et en allemand (Republik), rebus au xviii<sup>e</sup> s. en italien et en allemand (Rebus).

Hollow scaffolding walls covered with white translucent veil spread like roots into the four directions. Light casts shadows of movements as people walk through or within the passways just wide enough to invite their presence.

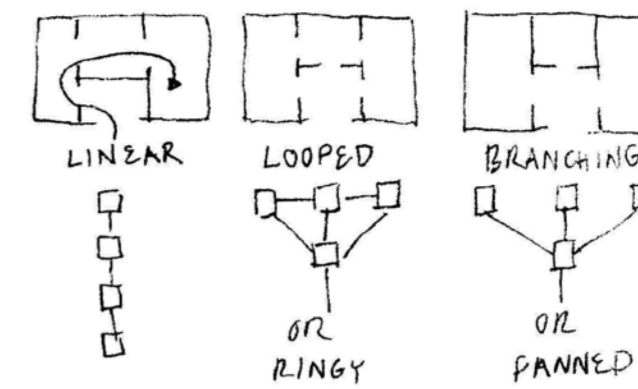

Surrounded by trees | branches and roots.
Parking | traces and partitions, rythms and movements.

Roots | origins, memories ... is the nature of labyrinth of the journey or of the walls we erect in our wanderings.

Light | forseing a way through these ephemeral walls.
